From the Baronage

To the Populous of Caer Mear,

Virtual Ruby Joust was a smashing success, vivats to everyone that came together and made this event happen. We are honored to serve in the Barony of Caer Mear, where so many wonderful people are doing magnificent things to keep our Barony strong even during this time we have been apart. During the Kingdom of Atlantia Court at Virtual Ruby Joust were honored to recognize Lady Úlfhildr Járnsaxa Svǫnudóttir, and Lady Jeane Kilmeny on their induction to the Order of the Pearl. Also Lord Seraphino Ferruccio, Lady Meriorie Matheson, and Lord Kenric the Hale for their induction into the Caer Mear Order of the Pharos, and Lady Olivia Isabelle for her Baroness' Award of Courtesy.

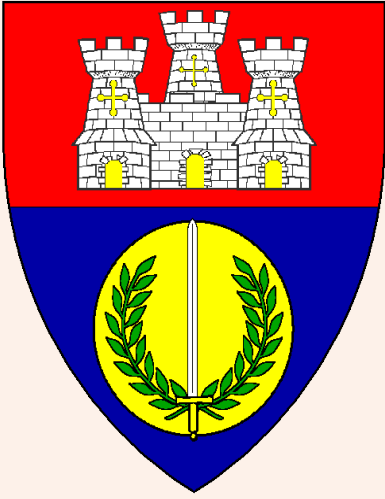

Yours in Service

Aedan Aylwyn and Áine Ruadh Inghean Néill

Caer Mear Members Shine at Ruby Joust

By: Kenric the Hale

Virtual Ruby Joust was a little different this year, however this did not prevent us from coming together, sharing stories, learning and laughing. Our classes included a History of Baskets with Dame Magda, Elizabethan Privateering and Sea Navigation with Lord Kenric the Hale, Hiberno-norse garb presented by Lady Úlfhildr, and our own Baron, Master Aedan presented “Finding a Niche” which demonstrated to newer members of the SCA how to get involved with the more seasoned. We also had an Arts and Science Competition presented by Lady Eadyth Woderose. This year's competition was Encampment Enrichment, an overall camp presentation of what your encampment looks like in your back yard, what projects you have completed this year your creative use of our colors the red and blue.

The most appropriate time for the members of Caer Mear to shine before the Kingdom is at a Gem Joust. At Virtual Atlantian Royal Court we had two wonderful ladies Lady Úlfhildr Járnsaxa Svönuðóttir, and Lady Jeane Kilmeny were honored with the induction to the Order of the Pearl. The Order of the Pearl honors and recognizes those subjects who have distinguished themselves by their efforts and their excellence in the arts and sciences of the period and/or their willingness to teach those same arts and sciences.

Lady Úlfhildr Járnsaxa Svönuðóttir was inducted into the Order of the Pearl for her wonderful art and her work on her Norse dress, and other items of clothing, and her contributions to the kingdom.

Lady Jeane Kilmeny was inducted into the Order of the Pearl for her wonderful work in the Bardic Arts. Her written songs, poems, and her service to the kingdom. Lady Kilmeny hosts virtual bardic events and is the head of the Performing Arts Guild.

During our Virtual Baronial Court the Baron and Baroness praised and thanked all of the members of our Barony who participated and organized virtual events during the pandemic. There were three individuals recognized for their specific contributions to the Barony; Lord Seraphino Ferruccio, Lady Meriorie Matheson, and Lord Kenric the Hale were all inducted into the Caer Mear Order of the Pharos. The oldest of Caer Mear's awards, the Order of the Pharos (named after the lighthouse of Alexandria) is given for exemplary service to the Barony, by the Baronage of Caer Mear, either jointly or separately. Its Badge is: Gules, atop a grey granite tower a beacon enflamed proper. This award was created by the Founding Baron of Caer Mear, Thomas-Edmund de Warrick.

Lord Seraphino Ferruccio was inducted for his service as Webminister and his dedication to enhance the barony's online presence. His hard work as redesigned our website, began our YouTube channel and has increased our Facebook presence.

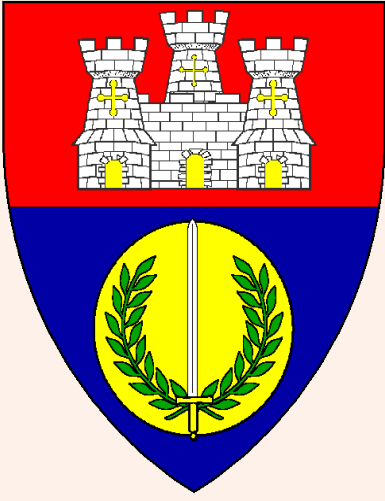

Lady Meriorie Matheson was inducted for her service as Baronial Herald and for her wonderful work in the art, and her service to the populous of Caer Mear.

Lord Kenric the Hale was inducted for his service as Caer Mear Chronicler, always asking for submissions and publishing the good works of our Barony.

Baroness Áine Ruadh Inghean Néill honored Lady Olivia Isabell with the Baroness' Award of Courtesy. Given solely at the discretion of the Baroness of Caer Mear, this award is given to those gentles that she feels exemplify courtesy and grace. This award may be received multiple times. Baroness Alewyn Adair created this award.

Lady Olivia Isabell received this award for her tireless efforts to create a smooth transition of Baronage and her grace in handling challenges with a smile and positive attitude, during this difficult time.

VIVATS to all the award Recipients and VIVAT Caer Mear !!!!!!!
